21-22 JUNE 2024

PRAGUE

The Association

The Euroleague Strength and Conditioning Association is the official association of the head S&C coaches, S&C assistants and sports scientists that are currently employed or were employed in the past by teams competing in the Euroleague.

Importantly, the ESCCA acts as the center point of a growing European strength and conditioning community of coaches interested in basketball performance training and injury rehabilitation.

The Event

The annual ESCCA Summit is now considered as the premier educational and networking event in Europe with a focus in basketball performance training. Each year there is a growing attendance and increasing interest from coaches and sport related companies alike.

History

Starting in July of 2021, the ESCCA has organized three Summits, two in Athens, Greece and one in Prague, Czech Republic. Additionally, through out the year, we are offering free and paid online events attracting elite speakers and hundreds of attending sport professionals from many countries.

Speakers

All ESCCA events attract high level speakers from around the world. The topics covered span a wide variety of related fields, mainly strength and conditioning, injury rehabilitation, sports medicine, sports management and sports psychology.

Attendance

Most of the attendees are strength and conditioning coaches, physiotherapists and students in related fields that have a keen interest in basketball. Each year live attendance is growing and the Summit's recordings are bought by coaches around the world.

Additionally, more companies participate as sponsors to the Summit, as the event offers access to a targeted audience (that of basketball S&Cs) and the opportunity to network with decision makers from the most high profile teams in Europe.
